

TAKE THAT MAN

When Take That toured in 2011 their set was overshadowed by a gigantic man. 100ft high, 200ft wide, and larger than the Angel of the North, the structure was made almost entirely of aluminium, created in 12 weeks and takes just six days to build and dismantle. Strong, light, portable the massive yellow man is a key part of the biggest UK touring production ever put on.

