

TRAVELLING LIGHT

The idea for using aluminium resulted from a fire in a luggage and leather goods factory in Cologne in the 1930s, which destroyed almost everything except a few aluminium plates. This led to the production of the first aluminium suitcase for foreign travel, in 1937.

Since then the cases have been remodelled into stylish personal cases and ultra-robust boxes for touring rock bands and electricians. With the holiday season fast approaching you can expect to see the stylish people travelling light with their aluminium luggage.
